Environetics Awarded Office & Warehouse Expansion with Origlio Beverage

Environetics is pleased to announce that it has been awarded a contract with Origlio Beverage. The firm will provide architecture, interior design, structural engineering and mep engineering services for the renovation and expansion of Origlio's corporate office and warehouse/distribution facility at the Byberry East Industrial Park in Philadelphia.

"Since their founding in 1933, Origlio Beverage has grown to become the premier wholesale distributor of domestic, imported, craft and micro-brewed beers to the Delaware Valley. We look forward to partnering with Origlio Beverage to design a facility that reflects the values and mission of their organization while accommodating and maximizing their daily operations," says Jeff Morgan, AIA, Principal at Environetics
