Dave Norton to Extend Environetics' Design and Project Management Leadership

LOS ANGELES, Calif., September 15, 2008 – Environetics®, a full-service interior architectural design and space-planning firm, today announced that it has added Project Director Dave Norton, an expert in construction management and design, to strengthen its leadership in delivering exceptional design, project management and customer experience throughout the commercial interior design process. Mr. Norton will work initially w the Los Angeles Community College District, CorVel, and G&H, among other projects.

“Blending a keen eye and passion for design with the meticulous attention to detail of a construction project manager, Dave brings the ideal traits and skills for project management to Environetics,” added Mr. Lehman. “His ability to quickly assess situations and identify areas requiring special attention ensure projects move forward on schedule and on budget, while meeting the design requirements.”

Most recently, Mr. Norton was a Facility and Design Manager at MJW Investments where he provided design services for tenant improvements in an historic 110,000 sf wholesale fashion building. Prior to that, Mr. Norton worked with Howard CDM as a Project Manager where he directed a wide range of developments for restaurants, entertainment companies, financial institutions and universities. In addition, he was Project Manager with R.N. Field Construction, Inc., and worked as Project Manager, Construction Manager and Designer for California Mart/CJVS Inc. He earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Georgia and completed his Interior Design Certificate at Learning Tree University. He is an active member of the International Facilities Management Association.
